At The Well, we know that people want to overcome the challenges they face in life, and for that to happen, they need a local place to get the help they need. The problem is, knowing and navigating available resources is complex, which leaves people feeling stuck and overwhelmed. They shouldn't have to do it on their own. We get it. It can be hard to know what to do or where to turn when life gets tough. That's why for over a decade, we've helped more than 4,000 people overcome life's barriers by collaborating with over 300+ partners.

The Well Thrift Store thrives alongside our faithful communities, funding The Well's goal of offering help and hope.
