“Volunteers Needed May 6-11 in Knoxville and Pella”

Pella, Iowa- The Well is gearing up for Transform 2019 taking place May 6-11th. Transform brings volunteers together to knock out community and homeowner service projects to ultimately strengthen our communities. The Well is looking for volunteers to complete projects in the Knoxville and Pella communities. The Well has received 25 projects to complete in total this far and is looking for servant-hearted individuals to complete light construction projects, yardwork, moving projects, painting, and more. Sign up with your family, your co-workers, your church bodies, and your neighbors.

“Volunteers are able to connect with homeowners, connect with each other, and serve in ways that fit their giftings throughout Transform,” said executive director of The Well, Jayson Henry.

While projects continue to funnel in and be scoped, volunteers are crucial to the success of this event. Consider what kinds of projects you’d like to work on this week. We hope you’ll choose to be part of the transformation for one day, a morning, the entire week, alone, or as a team.
